"Miss Dottie" Bartram, Co-Founder Of Christ Episcopal School Expires

Mrs. Dorothy Whitaker Bartram, Co-founder and first, primary teacher, Christ Episcopal Day School, died at King's House, Monday night, November 14. She was on the staff of the school until her recent illness, and will be greatly missed by pupils who affectionately knew her as "Miss Dottie."

Col. and Mrs. Bartram came to Bay St. Louis in 1949 when Col. Bartram became Executive Director of the Light House for the Blind of New Orleans. She became the first teacher of Christ Episcopal Day School in February of 1950, when she personally sought out 17 little children who made up the first class of Christ Episcopal Day School. The school was then located in the Parish House of Christ Episcopal Church. After the absence of one year, she resumed teaching first grade in 1952, when the school was established at its present site, 912 South Beach.

Mrs. Bartram was born in East Liverpool, Ohio, July 11, 1903, daughter of Minnette and George Whitaker. She was educated in the Youngstown, Ohio public schools, Mount Union College, and Ohio State University. She and Col. Bartram were married in 1928 and became the parents of two daughters, Patricia and Cynthia.

Mrs. Bartram has always been a leader in educational circles. She was a pioneer of the present method of teaching Home Economics in residential schools for the blind, having headed that department for the Ohio State School for the Blind where Col. Bartram was Superintendent for several years. She later became consultant for the Ohio State Department of Education and an Associate Faculty Member of Ohio State University. For a number of years she was President of the State Department Women's Club of Ohio. She was also State Vice President in the League of Women Voters in Ohio, and was active in Episcopal Church work at St. Paul's in Columbus, Ohio, as well as here in the Bay. At the time of her death, Mrs. Bartram was Devotional Leader for the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church, Bay St. Louis.

Miss Dottie never failed to warm and comfort her family, her countless friends, and especially her pupils with her Christian serenity. Her loss will be felt keenly. And yet, as many were privileged to share in the devotional talks which she gave as chairman of Devotions for the Auxiliary of Christ Church will testify, it must certainly be her wish and prayer that those who mourn her be comforted by the knowledge that her soul has been borne away by One Who will wipe away all tears, by One Who has prepared a place for her, that where He is, she may be also.

A Dorothy Bartram Memorial Fund has been established at Christ Episcopal Day School commemorating Mrs. Bartram's outstanding work and influence. She is survived by her husband, William E. Bartram, one daughter, Mrs. Joseph E. Vi-guerie, Jr., of Bay St. Louis, and her mother, Mrs. George Whitaker, of Elyria, Ohio.

The Requiem funeral service was held at Christ Church on Wednesday, November 16, at 10:00 A. M. Interment will be in Lake Park Memorial Cemetery, Youngstown, Ohio, which was founded by her father in 1921. Services will also be held at Davis-Wecker Funeral Home, Youngstown, Ohio, on Friday morning, November 18th.

Pall bearers for the service in Bay St. Louis, were: Rene deMontigny, Jr., John J. McDonald, Dr. B. L. Ramsey, and Sam L. Favre, Jr., Mr. Joseph Edwards of Henderson Point, and Mr. Lewis Stehling of Gulfport.

Honorary pall bearers were some of the former pupils of Mrs. Bartram: Bob Hamilton, Jr., Donald McCulloch, Jr., Sammie Allison, Carl Baily, Chuck Esau, and Paul Larsen. Acolytes for the services were Alfred Watts and Norvin Penrose, Jr.

Bay High Tigers Play Final Game Saturday 8 P. M.

The Bay High Tigers play their final game of the season on Saturday at 8:00 P. M. They will meet the Ocean Springs Greyhounds at St. Stanislaus Stadium. This will be the homecoming game for Bay High and it is expected that a great number of former grads will be back for this game and the Alumni Dance following the contest.

One point of interest of the Greyhound-Tiger game is the fact that the Superintendent of the Ocean Springs High School Nolan Taconi, is a former Bay High graduate and home town boy. Superintendent Taconi has had a very fine record as a school superior and is considered one of our better school men in South Mississippi. Bay High and Bay St. Louis can well be proud of the work that has been done by Mr. Taconi.

There will be an outstanding show, consisting of the crowning of the football queen and the performance of the Ocean Springs and Bay High bands.

The Homecoming Court, chosen by the players is as follows: Senior captain is Bobby Boudin, with Connie Ripple, senior as queen. Senior co-captain, Tommy Holden, with Noleen Ladner, senior, as maid-of-honor. Junior captain Henry Monti with Annie Marie Holden, junior, as maid; Sophomore captain, Grady Perkins with Eugene Geiger sophomore, as his maid; Freshman captain Melvin Barnes with Catherine Allison, freshman, as his maid.

Other maids and dukes from the senior class are: Ruth Bennett and Larry Landrum; Eleanor Burkin and Standish Crappen and Glenda Reed with Ronald Maurigi.

1st Lt. James L. Jordan Resigns C. O. Position of Bay National Guard

1st Lt. James L. Jordan of Piquette, Miss., resigned his position as Company Commander of the Bay St. Louis National Guard Unit this week because of a transfer in his civilian occupation.

Lt. Jordan is moving to Hattiesburg where he will take over the duties of Assistant County Agent of Forest County.

His replacement has not been selected as yet, but Lt. Irving Kingston, former Company Commander, has been recommended for the position.

Lt. Jordan took over the duties as CO on February 14, 1955. Upon resigning, Lt. Jordan said, "I leave this company with reluctance. I have enjoyed the association with the men and all of the people of the Bay with whom I have had the pleasure of getting acquainted. However, with Lt. Kingston taking over, I think the company will be in good hands."

Lt. Jordan added, "In order for the National Guard to move forward, it must have the solid support of every citizen. It is especially true at this time because it is a critical moment with our movement toward securing a new and modern Armory. If everyone will keep pushing and taking it upon themselves to support the Guard Unit, the new Armory should be something more than a reality in the next twelve months. Lt. Jordan continued, "Master Sgt. J. C. Roland is to be complimented on the many hours that he spent trying to make the dream of a Guard Unit in Bay St. Louis come true. As the 'Bay Unit' of the Battalion Co. C rated excellent at Summer Camp and it had been in operation only 8 months."

So, with enough solid support, there is no reason why Co. C cannot be the best in the Battalion.

Lt. Jordan, along with his new job will assume the duties of Battalion Supply Officer and will be assigned to Co. B of the Hattiesburg National Guard.

Richard Faust was his best man. Groomsmen were Robert Walsh, Larry Young, Arthur Keenan and Andre Trawick, all of New Orleans. Ushers were Robert Ballina and Charles Unger, also of New Orleans.

Immediately following the church ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Larose on North Beach.

Receiving the guests with the bride and groom were the mothers of the young couple. Mrs. Blanchard chose a blue and white de sole worn with bronze accessories and a bronze colored orchid while Mrs. Faust wore light blue satin brocade with matching hat and accessories, and a shoulder corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

White flowers and greenery were used in abundance in decorating the reception rooms of the home. The bride's cake was placed on a table covered with an imported lace and linen cloth. It was flanked with silver candelabra holding white lighted tapers, and decorated with lilies of the valley and stephanotis flowers used in trailing effect.

The young couple left by motor for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home in New Orleans.

For traveling, the bride selected a blue tuxedo suit with blue hat, British tan shoes and accessories and wore on her shoulder the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride was gown in an antique satin dress made with a full skirt which fell into a graceful Cathedral train. The bodice was fitted and made with a rounded neckline which had appliques of rose point lace embroidered in seed pearls and sequins. Her veil of nylon illusion was held to the head with lace cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of a white orchid centered among lilies of the valley, tied with streamers of white satin ribbons.

Six sisters of the bride stood as her attendants. Miss Joanne Blanchard was maid of honor and Misses Marianne, Dianne, Julianne, and Anne were bridesmaids. Patricia Anne was junior bridesmaid, and a cousin Robin Ballina of New Orleans was flower girl. They wore identical gowns of rose shaded taffeta, waist length and self trimmed with tucking and self covered buttons fastening the fronts of the frocks. Their slippers were of satin matching their gowns in color, and they carried bouquets of white and pink sweetheart roses and wore

After a short honeymoon the couple will make their home on Gentilly Avenue, New Orleans.

Fishing over the weekend was excellent—fish were being caught most anywhere. According to reports large catones of big trout were made at Bayou Caddy, Jordan River and Pearl River. The speckles are running large just now.

This weekend should be good fishing after the cold front expected has passed and with rising barometer and cold weather the fish should strut their stuff.

It is reported that Sullivan Rutherford got his share and more of specks up Bayou La Croix and Jordan River. Red Carver and Bob Genin have been making some real catches up Pearl River the past week. They know where they are. Of course Pete Caruso usually accompanies them and the Genin boys.

Dr. Eldredge was well rewarded when he went up Jordan River. He had a good catch of speckles.

Louis Norman and Mr. Drake have been catching speckles down the other way towards Bayou Caddy, etc.

Willie Boudages of Boudages Fishing Camp at Bayou Caddy has hit the Jack Pot in the Bayou lately. They are large ones, said Willie.

By the way the Boudages brothers have plenty of skiffs and live bait.

Oc Delph said that he and Benny Hill have been trolling with good results.

Lambert Boyd, Sr., has also been getting some nice fish lately according to his story.

Aimes Kergosien and Joe Kern, hunting enthusiasts report killing the limit on ducks up Jordan River over the weekend. It's hard work, said Aimes.

Wilson Crane of Illinois and Dave Duman of Jackson, Mich., both golf pros were guests of Alex Cunningham, pro at P. C. Isles Golf Club on a fishing trip up Jordan River Wednesday. With the number of new baits they bought and Alex's skill they must have gotten their share.

Another good time is in store for all who attend the OPEN HOUSE at Pass Christian Isles Golf Course at Henderson Point this Sunday (Nov. 20). There will be no green fees charged. The affair will last all day with eats and drinks available. The greens have been recently top-dressed and the course is in excellent shape. Make up a party and be on hand for this gala affair. Who'll Pay For The New Highways?

Every proposal for a multi-billion dollar federal highway program can up against a big question: Who'll pay for it?

The administration called for a federal highway program piled up over $11 billion in interest-free, and generated the unpopular federal gasoline tax payments into the national tax structure. The substitute backed by the House leadership added insult to injury by proposing a five percent increase in the overworked gas levy.

During the floor debate on these measures, Congressman Gardner R. Withrow of Wisconsin put his finger on one big flaw in both proposals. Declaring that "gasoline is a commodity which is already being taxed at a staggering high rate when compared with all the other automotive products and supplies," he noted that the proposed increase would mean a combined state and federal tax averaging nearly forty percent of the price—or some four times as much as the tax on outright luxuries.

If added funds are needed, the Congressman recommended that "we turn our sights toward some of the other automotive taxes—the ones which are not duplicated at State level and which, therefore, now carry a far lower tax rate."

In the same vein, the nation's governors at their recent Chicago meeting took notice of the $2.5 billion already being collected from the highway users in taxes on automobiles, trucks, tires, tubes, parts and accessories and suggested that these funds be tapped to finance the enlarged road program.

Here it would seem, is a sound and practical answer to the question of "WHO'LL PAY?" If it is to be the highway users they are already paying... and logic suggests that their present multi-billion dollar annual payments be drawn upon before they are told to ante up still more. —Editorial—The Brookhaven Leader-Times, Brookhaven, Miss.

Priest Addresses
Youth Rally

Rev. Vance Z. Thorne, S. V. D., Divine Word Missionary priest addressed a gathering of 4,000 Catholic youth delegates at their rally in Worcester, Massachusetts, November 10-11.

The invitation to make the address was extended to Father Thorne by His Excellency, Bishop John J. Wright, D. D., of Worcester.

Father Thorne was ordained at the local seminary in 1953 by His Excellency, Bishop Joseph O. Bowers, S. C. D., D. D., Divine Word Missionary bishop, just three months after that bishop's epoch-making consecration at Our Lady of the Gulf Church here.

The talented young priest, a native of North Carolina began his seminary studies with the Divine Word Missionaries here in 1940. Since his ordination he has been assigned to parish work in Jackson where he has been acclaimed for his work among the youth of that city.

A series of remarkable radio addresses which he delivered in Jackson has won applause for the young priest who was trained at the local seminary.

Bay High News

Bay High Band was one of the thirty-eight high school bands from Mississippi and Alabama which participated in the Mississippi Southern Band Day in Hattiesburg on Saturday, November 12. Forty members of the band and majorettes corps journeyed to Hattiesburg with their director, Mr. Marcel La Nasa and Mrs. La Nasa.

The band took part in a gala parade of the 38 bands at 2:30 in the afternoon. Later, at the half, during the Mississippi Southern-South Dakota football game the band appeared in the half-time show. The words, "Mississippi Southern Band Day '55" were spelled out on the field by approximately 1500 band students. It was an impressive and spectacular sight with the brightly colored and sometimes sombre uniforms of the many bands lined up on the field to play the Mississippi Southern Fight song and the Alma Mater.

In addition to seeing the Mississippi Southern-South Dakota football game the Bay High Band had the pleasure of seeing the Mississippi Southern Band show which preceded the game and which featured the "Darlings" of the majorette division.

The parents who accompanied the band to Hattiesburg for the day were Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. Blanch Drury and Mrs. Philip Allison.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends for their kind sympathy during the recent illness and death of our daughter. We also wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the Doctors and staff of Kings Daughters Hospital and Rev. Father Leonard.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Saucier.

WINTERING CATTLE

There is no need to try and fatten commercial breeding cattle during the winter, or to use more than enough of costly protein.

A 100-pound bred cow, or two-year-old heifer will need a ton of average hay and 100 pounds of cottonseed meal for a 100-day feeding period. Or, a ton and a half of sorghum silage, 600 pounds of hay and the 100 pounds of cottonseed meal.

Cows with fall calves should be given two or two and a half tons of the silage, 600 pounds of hay and 100 to 150 pounds of cottonseed meal.

Herd bulls require special attention. A 1400-pound bull, wintered without pasture, can be kept in good breeding condition with a daily allowance of 30 pounds of silage, 10 pounds of good quality legume hay, 10 to 12 pounds of grain mixture and one to two pounds of protein meal.

As wintering cattle varies on individual farms, according to the size of the farm, the numbers of cattle, the production system followed and the feed available, farmers should consult county agents for specific recommendations.

FROSTED GRASSES AND SORGHUM

Use care in grazing frosted sweet sorghum and grain sorghum. Two ways to handle these are to turn in one animal and test it out, or a better way, let the sorghum dry after frost. In this way, there is no more danger from prussic acid.

Laboratory tests of frosted sorghum samples may not be representative of the entire field. One part of the field may be free from the poison, while just down the row, the prussic acid may be present.

Other frosted grasses, including Johnson grass can be considered safe.

COVER CROP PLANTING

There is still time left to do some late plantings such as cover crops on cultivated land and cereals and ryegrass on sod land.

Winter peas or vetch can be planted to land the farmers will prepare lat next spring for planting. An example is land to be planted in sorghum silage.

Sod seeding can be done on stands of Bermuda, fescue, carpet, Johnson and Bahia grass. Cereals or ryegrass planted on sod will withstand the early cold better than that planted on cleanly cultivated land.

Too running the sod seeder through stands of any of the wintering clovers or winter peas, even if these are up will not hurt the stand.

With the many hazards of nature and market conditions, a financial reserve is necessary insurance against unforeseen emergencies for the farmer. Farmers are being urged by all farm leaders to put a part of their income in Savings Bonds.

These bonds are the safest investment in the world. They are safe if lost, destroyed in any way or stolen. They will be reissued without cost to the owner. Money invested in Savings Bonds can be had any time the owner needs it. In one sense a Savings Bonds is a Government check bearing interest. These Bonds pay 3% compound interest if held to maturity.

Real independence, happiness and a feeling of security comes when we have SAVINGS. Many of our worries are removed when we have the satisfaction of knowing we have the money to take care of our needs. All of use agree that we
